Dear Mr. Sinor:

It was a distinct pleasure to work together with you and your firm, International Public Works, Inc. on our recent project, Additions and Renovations to Manning Primary School. I can honestly say that, in my years as a registered architect, I have never worked with a more cooperative and pleasant construction group.

The demeanor of your project superintendent, Mr. Bryan Rembert, as well as, everyone associated with IPW, Inc. is above reproach. It is obvious that your company does not employ anyone that does not have a positive attitude and a professional and courteous approach to any problem. Everyone with whom I came in contact was always a "part of the solution" and never a "part of the problem"; a characteristic that is often quite difficult to find in a construction firm.

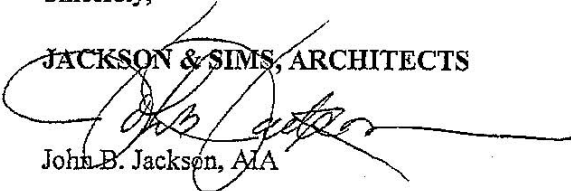

Without exception, every request I made of Mr. Rembert was addressed immediately and completed to the best of his ability in a timely manner. Even though his main role in this project was on-site construction superintendent, as he is a Citadel engineering graduate, he was able to act as project manager when needed. Mr. Rembert was also capable and willing to "strap on a tool belt" and complete detailed construction tasks if necessary.

In every case, he has endeavored to "go the extra mile" to insure that the owner and the architect are as satisfied as possible. Throughout the duration of the project, there was not a single occasion involving a disagreement or misunderstanding of any type.

I wish Mr. Rembert and your entire firm the very best in all future endeavors. I look forward to the opportunity of working together again in the future.

Sincerely,

JACKSON & SIMS, ARCHITECTS

John B. Jackson, AIA
